MATTAPOISETT RESIDENT WRITES BOOK

Mr. Howard P. Nash, Jr. of Mechanic Street, Mattapoisett has completed a new book. The book, "Third Parties in American Politics", is being published by Public Affairs of Washington, D. C., and is a history of third parties in American politics. Publication date is October 27th.

COVER PHOTOS OF LAST WEEK

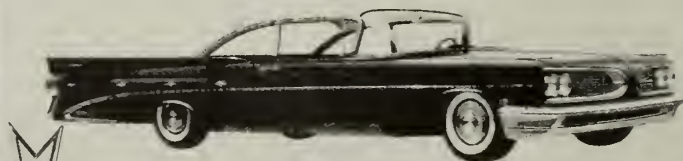

The top picture was a view of North Street looking towards Water Street. The boy in the photo is identified on the back as Charlie Bethune.

The lower picture is of Water Street at the top of the wharf in Mattapoisett. The store on the corner is now the Mooring. The next is the Atsatt Bros. Store, now missing. The next, the store where the village shop was located until this year and in back is the large Purrington Hall which is gone.

The pictures were loaned to us by Mrs. Willis Munroe and we thank her very much.

We talked to Mrs. George Hiller this week and she was very interested in the pictures because she thinks that her father may have taken them. He took hundreds of glass plate photos and developed them in a darkroom in his home.

This weeks cover is a fall painting of some birch trees in the Lakeville region done by Donald Jason in watercolor.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

The Massachusetts Council of Churches is bringing before the citizens of the Commonwealth the fact that the question of pari-mutuel gambling at licensed horse and dog tracks which appears on the ballot once every four years is an item on the November 4th ballot this year.

Since the licensing of pari-mutuel tracks 23 years ago, organized illegal gambling has become a two billion dollar problem in Massachusetts and has taken on the proportions and techniques of big business. The ratio of illegal to legal gambling is 4 to 1.

The Massachusetts Crime Commission states "...professionals have told the commission as an axiom, everyone who bets at the tracks will, given the chance, bet away from the track". "While this may not be strictly true, it appears to serve as a business guide to professionals."

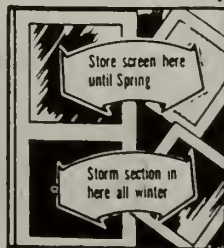

It is our responsibility as citizens to think about the issues on our ballot and to cast an intelligent vote.

Very truly yours,
Gladys W. Reynard,
Chairman Social
Action Committee
Women's Community Guild

Church

RABBI ZISKIND SPEAKS AT ROCHESTER P-TA

More than 45 parents, teachers and guests heard Rabbi Bernard H. Ziskind of Tiffereth Israel of New Bedford speak on "Education from the Hebraic Viewpoint" at the monthly meeting of the Rochester Parents-Teachers Association. In olden days noted Rabbi Ziskind the "learned person was highly thought of---knowledge was encouraged". He continued that "religion is the concern of the home and church and that Sunday School has not been that effective".

Mrs. Joseph A. Chamberlain presided at the meeting held in the auditorium of the Rochester Consolidated School.

It was voted to pay the area council dues of $1. Mrs. Jesse Metcalf, corresponding secretary reported that letters had been sent to parents having children who entered Grade 1 this year and to the school committeemen and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Alton H. Pierce,

Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Douglas H. Church and Mr. and Mrs. Clifton H. Chase, cordially inviting them to attend P-TA meetings. She reported that letters had been sent to the P-TAs of Middleboro, Lakeville and Carver notifying our meeting. They had expressed a desire to attend our meetings at the area council meeting held September at the Mayflower Junior High School in Middleboro. Rochester P-TA will be host at the next area council meeting scheduled for February 2, 1959 for officers or delegates to be held at the Rochester Consolidated School.

Projects recommended by the executive board were presented to the membership. The first project was "to purchase small needed playground equipment". Earle P. Hanna, coach, will report at the next meeting what additional equipment the children can use. The second project recommended was "to purchase small shrubbery to be placed under the windows of the Rochester Consolidated School. Mrs. Logan Doane will bring an estimate of the cost of the project at the next meeting.

It was voted to pay for the printed stationery to be used for P-TA correspondence by Mrs. Metcalf. The membership voted to pay our share of the expenses for the Teachers Reception held at the Rochester Consolidated School auditorium in September. This is an annual affair the Woman's Club, Rochester Grange and the Rochester P-TA sponsor the affair and share the expenses.

A communication was read by Mrs. Metcalf from Mrs. Timothy O'Brien, chairman of the calendar fund to raise money for the Raymond S. Hartley Scholarship fund which is sponsored by the Woman's Club. No action had
